

Marshall Plan for Talent: Michigan Talent and Economic Development Department

April 08, 2019

The Marshall Plan for Talent is a revolutionary partnership between educators, employers and other stakeholders to transform Michigan's talent pipeline and redesign the ways we invest in, develop and attract talent in our state.

The $100 million investment was designed and implemented by of the Talent and Economic Development Department of Michigan (Ted), the Michigan Department of Education (MDE) and Governor Rick Snyder to address the projected 811,000+ high-demand career opening through 2024 in fields like information technology and computer science, healthcare, manufacturing and other business and Professional Trades careers.
